A BETTER WAY BY JOHN BARROW PDF

One of the loneliest, most painful places a man can find himself is in a cold, dark prison cell. It is a place very few ever intended to go. Young boys dream of growing up to be policemen, firemen, cowboys—anything but convicts or inmates. But, because some of us could not stay within the boundaries, we found ourselves in too deep. What started out as a little “fun and adventure” finished up being another painful experience. But why? That’s what we keep asking. Why? • Why do we continue to bring about self inflicted wounds? • Why do we find ourselves making the same old lap over and over again? • Will I ever get off of this vicious ride and stay off? • Will I ever solidify my walk and stabilize? • Will I ever quit hurting those who love me and causing all this collateral damage? These were my thoughts over and over again. Every time I found myself in YDC, the county jail, the state penitentiary, and finally holed up in solitary confinement, I would ask these questions. It seemed as though I could never find freedom from my own worst enemy, me.

Great testimony and message of triumph in the Lord

By TLS

This should be read by everyone who wonders if their son or daughter will ever come back to the Lord, if their prayers are really being heard! We all know someone or have been someone who struggles with being at their last brink of hope and finding that with God there is always hope and with Him things can be made more amazing than we could ever imagine when we turn to Him with all of our hearts...

A must read if you or someone you love is struggling with addiction

By Daisy Chestnutt

My name is Pastor David Chestnut and I'm a missionary to addicted men like John. I have worked with over 800 men over the last 9 years. I'm so grateful for this new resource for the men I will work with in the future. Thank You John for your honest...
